

YOUR PERSONAL
ASSISTANCE

We offer help to elderly, frail or disabled members, to maintain independence in their own home, secure in the knowledge that they are never alone.

We give peace of mind and reassurance to the client's families and friends, that their loved ones, are safe and that help is at hand should they need it.

Enjoy the added benefits of a lightweight personal alarm pendant, which can be worn around the neck or wrist and is activated without the need to reach for a telephone.

We assess which system is suited to your personal needs and can change or upgrade your system (cost maybe involved) to meet your needs and requirements as they change.

The system is checked and tested on a regular basis to ensure that the system is functioning properly.

If key holders are not local or available you are still able to have a personal alarm because we can provide you with a key safe to act as an emergency key holder.

A key safe is a simple and secure way to keep a door key handy and can only be opened by entering a unique code on the keypad, so it is very secure.

We would securely hold the combination to your key safe so that if we could not get hold of your key holder, the emergency services could be given access to your property.
